Azerocare is the first specific protective process for marble and is the ideal solution for bathroom and kitchen spaces as it guarantees permanent protection against stains and corrosion caused by contact of surfaces with acidic organic substances (whose PH ranges from 3 to 8). This process carries out its protective function, keeping aesthetics, colors and perception to the touch of the natural stone.

Azerocare is therefore a guarantee against possible damages deriving from the use of products such as wine, coffee, oil, vinegar, tomato sauce, fruit juices, as well as perfumes, toothpastes, detergents, lotions, lipsticks or eau de toilette. This process also makes surfaces non-permeable, avoiding the proliferation of bacteria. This treatment is available on the Black&Gold, Dover White and Dalmata marbles for the products Kerwan dining table, Kobol wellness unit and Leonardo wellness unit.

CLOUD

Padded chair with backrest and arms with arched shape and covered with leather or fabric with low-relief quilting with Cà Foscari texture. The metal frame is characterised by an element which embraces the backrest and the arms with a torsional movement obtained from a cold-finished and chromed aluminium bar, in order to get a mirrored surface with hypnotic reflections. Metal frame available in the metal lacquer finish selection.

Concerning the use of marble, the biggest novelty regards the new techniques employed in its working, which allows to obtain results of artistic relevance while enhancing the natural veins of the marble. Vincent console shows a top in marble Port Laurent decorated with "Coccodrillo" Texture 1 finish, hand-crafted in micro relief; this unique engraving exalts the natural veins of the marble, stressing the uniqueness of each slab and giving an organic appearance to this inanimate material. The metal structure is composed by curved tubes tied together.

ROCK chandelier

The natural transparency of Onyx used for Rock lamps is emphasised by the lighting systems which works as lighting sources as well as decorative element, ensuring the aesthetical balance of this collection. The electrical parts of the lamps are wrapped by a thin metal band which embraces the onyx, containing the LED source and allowing the suspension of the lighting elements by means of steel cables. Rock lamps can be configured with 3, 6 or 9 lighting elements with adjustable in height, resulting extremely versatile and adaptable to different project requirements.
